

Transportation

HOUG SPECIAL SERVICES INC.

We're hauling jobs.

Employment in transportation and warehousing, and in truck transportation is predicted to grow 11 percent through 2016 nationwide. The warehousing and storage area is projected to grow even more, at 23.5 percent. This expansion is estimated to add 496,000 jobs in transportation and warehousing, 158,000 jobs in truck transportation and another 150,000 jobs in warehousing and storage occupations.

In the seven-county Denver-metro area, the transportation and warehousing industry is among the 10 largest industries with the most employees. There were 1,796 businesses employing 54,165 in 2008. Adams County has the most transit employees with 6,416 in 2008, then Denver County (2,973). These specialists transport people and materials by land, sea or air. Transportation, storage and distribution managers are among the highest paying growth jobs in Colorado, expected to earn $54,718 annually to start and $107,056 with top experience.

Sources: Colorado Department of Labor & Employment, 2009 Occupational Outlook Handbook, Denver Business Journal Book of Lists 2009-2010

Houg Special Services Inc. is a 100-percent woman-owned business which has been family operated and managed for the past 25 years.

Houg Special Services specializes in logistics and transportation, trucking, freight hauling, warehousing, 3PL provider, services, freight forwarding and supply chain management from its Commerce City site.

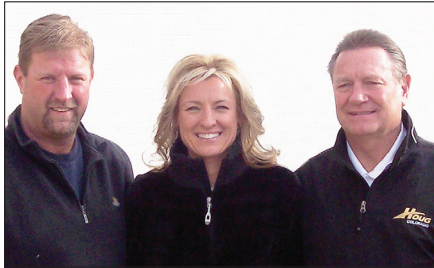

Founder Doug Houg instilled in his children, Jenyce and Wade, that "Never Saying No" to customers is the only way to be successful in any business. He believes that employees and carriers are the company's most valued asset because they determine the true success of any logistics company.

Its Regional & Local Team can handle a variety of container, dry van, refrigerated, flatbed and specialized deliveries anywhere within the Rocky Mountain Region. It has more than 50 years of combined experience within the department.

The company's over-the-road drivers can make deliveries all over the country on a daily basis. The Brokerage Department focuses on handling any transportation request.

Its Special Services maintains a full-service warehouse in Commerce City, in the Denver-metro area. It can provide:

- Warehousing in Denver or anywhere in the U.S.
- Cross-dock services of all types

Wade and Jenyce Houg work alongside their father, Doug, in their Denver-area company.

- Load delivery and re-delivery
- LTL grocery freight consolidation to anywhere in Colorado
- Short-, mid- and long-term warehousing and storage solutions in Denver or anywhere in the country.

The firm operates a full-service maintenance facility in Denver capable of handling any service on any make and model of tractor or trailer. Service team members also can assist with solutions anywhere in the U.S.

Houg Special Services helps outside CDL drivers become their own Independent motor carrier and successful business. It can help drivers develop a business plan and advise them of requirements to operate your own business.

Delivering job opportunities

Current openings include brokers, maintenance, truck chaser, clerical data entry, networked transportation agent and management positions. Customer service includes freight tracking, handling paperwork requests and accounting requests. There are also Carrier opportunities for Owner Operators.

Houg Special Services Inc. is at 5333 E. 58th Ave., Commerce City 80022; (888) 293-4684; recruiting (303) 564-3355 www.houg.net.